

ESO at the 5th International Contact Lens CME – ACME 5

A team of five students from Elite School of Optometry participated in the Continuous Medical Education event held at Ahalia Eye Hospital organized by Ahalia School of Optometry, Kerala. The students actively took part in multiple competitions during the event. Ms Akshaya R, Ms Swetha S and Ms Sai Keerthana, interns from ESO participated in the Role-play competition. They delivered a skit focused on contact lens care and management which was highly appreciated by the judges. In another event, Mr Sayak Banerjee, a 2nd Year Optom student and Ms Sneha Gupta, an Intern from Elite School of Optometry participated in the Debate Competition. They supported the notion that Rose K lenses are better than Scleral lenses in Corneal ectasias and won the first prize which included a cash prize of 10,000 rupees. Both competitions were judged by prominent figures in the field of optometry and Contact Lenses. The CME was mainly focused on Challenges and Innovations in Contact Lenses. National and international speakers discussed various aspects of contact lenses during the event. Approximately 1000 delegates from various colleges in India attended the CME, making it a unique event in the field of contact lenses. Here are a few highlights from the session!
